

In the neighborhood.

Tucked away on a quiet residential block, Bethune Lofts offer luxury urban living close to arts, culture, dining and entertainment. With exposed brick and large windows, you can enjoy lots of natural light and the warm charm of a 100-year-old building that's been given a new life.

Within a mile or two, you've got fun shopping and a world-class theater in the stunning Fisher Building, an art deco gem of the city. Or just walk through the beautiful neighborhoods in the area as you make your way to the bars and restaurants of Woodward and Milwaukee Junction.

The D Coffee Co. will be opening just steps from Bethune Lofts! If you work at Henry Ford Hospital, you can get it to go and walk all the way to work while it's still hot.

Want to get downtown for work or fun? The 180 million QLINE rail will take you there in less than 15 minutes. Or get off and explore the Detroit Institute of Arts, The Detroit Historical Society or choose from a cluster of restaurants and bars in Midtown.

Whatever you're in the mood for and whatever the occasion, Detroit delivers. With cozy Italian, trendy tapas, local farm-to-table and everything in between just steps from your door, a quick dinner after work or a night out with friends are always just around the corner.
